ABOUT THE COVER

On the cover is a touchdown the hard way. That's Mike Haffner snaring a Pete Liske pass with a dive into the end zone. The action came at Mile High Stadium last season against the then defending Super Bowl Champion New York Jets. Denver won, 21-19.

ALL TIMES ARE LOCAL

A Quick Glance at the 1970 Broncos

Improved quarterbacking and better over-all performances at linebacker and in the defensive secondary. Those are Coach Lou Saban's major goals for the Denver Broncos in 1970.

And, if the Broncos can attain a major share of the goals, Saban feels that Denver will evidence its improvement with a better won-lost record and a run at a .500 campaign.

If either Steve Tensi or Pete Liske can come through at the signal-calling post, the Bronco offense could take off. Halfback Floyd Little has blossomed as a super-star. Rookie Bobby Anderson, Denver's No. 1 draft choice, will get a chance to run in the same backfield with co-captain Little. The receiving, with Al Denson, Mike Haffner, et al., is top drawer. And, George Goeddeke, Mike Current and Sam Brunelli headline a continually improving front line.

Defensively, the line dumped opponent quarterbacks 45 times in 1969. All-Leaguer Rich Jackson and co-captain Dave Costa head a fine cast that could be reinforced by rookie Alden Roche, Denver's No. 2 draftee. Cornerback Billy Thompson, who doubled as the AFL's leading punt and kickoff returner, had a fine rookie season in '69. Safety Charles Greer also had solid credentials.

Saban seeks better work from linebackers John Huard, Chip Myrtle and Carl Cunningham. Experience could help. So could the return of the injured Fred Forsberg. Newcomers will press other veterans in the secondary.

If some of the pieces fall into place and the Broncos can avoid the almost unbelievable injury hex of the past two seasons, 1970 could be the year Denver goes over the hump.

Coach Lou Saban Says

"We feel we are headed in the right direction. The days of constant shuffling of personnel are over in Denver. We feel that we have a number of the men who can take us where we want to go... the Littles, the Jacksons, the Costas, the Thompsons, the Goeddekes and so on."

"Last year, we were competitive with the better teams in a lot of ways. But, major injuries hurt us badly... and we didn't have the depth to bridge the gap. You can't lose Floyd Little for half the season and be the same football team."

"In 1970, we should be better both offensively and defensively. The only problem is that the other clubs will be better too. And, there is no question that our division—Denver, Kansas City, Oakland, and San Diego—is the toughest in professional football."

"Offensively, we hope that Bobby Anderson, our No. 1 draft choice, can team with Little in the starting backfield. It would give us real explosiveness. We also expect help from Willis Crenshaw, obtained in a trade with St. Louis, and veterans Fran Lynch, Frank Quayle and Wandy Williams. The receiving, with Al Denson, Mike Haffner, John Embree and Billy Van Heusen, could rate with the best. Our offensive line has improved a great deal. Quarterbacks Steve Tensi and Pete Liske will both get all the work they can handle during the pre-season. Their performances will decide which man is the starter at the most important position on our football team."

"Defensively, Rich Jackson and Dave Costa anchor a line that we think is solid. Cornerback Billy Thompson is a standout in the secondary, but we must improve at some of the linebacker and deep secondary positions. Overall, we look for a better Denver Bronco football team in 1970."

Gerald H. Phipps
Chairman of the Board

Gerry Phipps has been an integral part of the Denver sports scene for more than two decades — a time which saw the metropolitan area attain major league status and nationwide recognition.

In 1947, he became part of the organization that brought the Denver Bears here as members of the old Western League. The Bears, during the years which immediately followed that move, set minor league baseball attendance records which stood unchallenged for many years.

In 1961, one year after big league professional football had arrived in the form of the Denver Broncos of the American Football League, Phipps became a major owner.

Four years later, he and his brother, Allan, became virtually the sole owners of the club and he assumed duties as board chairman.

Phipps, 55, is a member of the Denver Country Club, the Denver Athletic Club, Denver Club, Cherry Hills Country Club and the Williams Club of New York.

He was born March 4, 1915, in Denver to Lawrence C. and Margaret Rogers Phipps and received his bachelor's degree from Williams College in 1936.

He was employed by the Denver & Rio Grande Western Railroad from then until he entered the Navy as an Ensign in May, 1942.

Following his separation from the service in 1945, he was employed by a general contracting firm in Denver until 1952, when he formed his present company. In 1958, he was elected vice-president and treasurer of California Electric Power Co. and when that company merged with Southern California Edison Company late in 1963, he was named a director of the latter. He is a past president of the Associated Building Contractors of Colorado, Inc., and a director of The First National Bank Corporation, Western Federal Savings and Loan Association, and the Denver and Rio Grande Western Railroad. He also is a trustee of Colorado College.

Phipps was married in New York City on Sept. 24, 1937, to the former Janet Alice Smith. They have three daughters.

Allan R. Phipps
President

Allan R. Phipps manages to mesh a long-standing interest in sports with various other widespread community participations.

At Williams College, where he received his bachelor’s degree, he was a member of the tennis and swimming teams. As president of Empire Sports, Inc., he has been in the forefront of professional sports activities.

Phipps, 57, is also a partner in the law firm of Hughes & Dorsey; active in key non-candidate roles in the Republican party, including a stint as chairman of the GOP State Finance Committee, and serves on the governing boards of numerous organizations.

His posts include those of trustee of the University of Denver, the Denver Museum of Natural History, the Denver Symphony Society and Graland Country Day School.

Phipps was Alumni Trustee of Williams College and is a member of the Board of Trustees of the Winter Park Recreational Association and of the Board of Managers of St. Luke’s Hospital in Denver.

In addition to his bachelor’s degree from Williams in 1934, he received a degree in Jurisprudence from Oxford University in 1936 and a law degree from the University of Denver in 1937.

Phipps is a member of Phi Beta Kappa. He served in World War II as a Lieutenant Commander, U. S. Naval Reserve, in the Pacific Theater.

He is a director of the Denver Tramway Corporation, Cherry Creek National Bank, South Denver National Bank, Belcaro Realty Investment Company, International Realty Company and the Highlander Hotel Corporation.

Phipps was admitted to the Colorado bar in 1938 and joined Hughes & Dorsey in 1946.

He is married to the former Clara Mitchell Van Schaack, and has two sons and a daughter.
Lou Saban
General Manager —
Head Coach

Lou Saban knows what it takes to be a winner. In 1964-65, when he was Head Coach of the Buffalo Bills, his teams won the title in the American Football League and Saban was named Coach-of-the-Year.

When the 1970 campaign gets underway, Saban will be beginning his fourth year as General Manager and Head Coach of the Denver Broncos. He hopes this will be the season when his rebuilding program will begin to pay dividends. “We’ve stressed youth,” he said, “and have had to pay the price for growing pains. But we now have the nucleus, and are beginning to achieve a look of stability.”

At Buffalo, Saban transformed an also-ran into a winner. When the Bills finished last in the AFL’s Eastern Division in 1961. Lou was elevated from Director of Player to Head Coach. He produced a winning team his first year. The next season, 1963, the Bills moved up to second place in their division. In 1964 and 1965, the Saban-coached Bills won both their divisional title and the over-all AFL Championship.

The 48-year-old Bronco GM-Head Coach began his professional coaching career in 1960, when the AFL came into being. He directed the Boston Patriots in 1960 and for the first five games of the 1961 season. After winning the AFC title for the second straight time at Buffalo in 1965, Saban decided to return to the college coaching ranks at Maryland. However, Bronco owners Gerald and Allan Phipps persuaded Lou to return to the AFL in the dual capacities of General Manager and Head Coach a year later. His won-lost record for seven plus seasons is 75-58-1.

A single wing quarterback at the University of Indiana, Saban was the Hoosiers’ captain and most valuable player in 1942, as well as an All-Big Ten selection. An almost sure bet for All-America honors the following year as a senior, Saban found the military taking prior claim.
And, in due course, he was commissioned a First Lieutenant in the Army’s O.S.S.

After completing language school at Fort Benning, Georgia, Lou was assigned to the China-Burma-India theater of operations as a student of the Chinese language (Mandarin dialect).

Three and one-half years later, Saban received his honorable discharge and signed a professional football contract with the Cleveland Browns in the newly-formed All-America Conference.

It was the start of one of sports’ most successful sagas. During the four years Saban played for the Browns they won four league championships. Lou captained the Browns each season. Twice, in 1948 and 1949, he was an All-League linebacker selection.

When the AAC folded and merged with the NFL, Saban retired as a player. From there on, with the exception of 1956 when he entered the insurance business, Lou has been in the coaching profession.

From 1950 through 1952, Saban was head coach at Case Institute of Technology. From there he went to the University of Washington as an assistant coach. Lou joined the staff at Northwestern in 1954 as an assistant for the Wildcats, and the following year became their head coach.

After his brief tenure in the insurance business in 1956, Saban returned to football the following year as head coach at Western Illinois. In 1958 and again in 1959, Lou’s Leathernecks won conference championships. The latter year his club was undefeated and ranked second in the nation among small colleges.

Lou and his wife, Lorraine, who were married in 1947, have four children — Tom, Barbara, Patricia and Christine.

William “Whitey” Dovell
Offensive Line Coach

Whitey Dovell, 43, joined the Denver Broncos after 15 years at the University of Maryland as an assistant coach.

Born in Newark, N.J., Dovell interrupted his high school education for Uncle Sam’s benefit during World War II, enlisting in the Seabees in 1944. He saw action in the Pacific Theater and received his honorable discharge in 1946.

After completing his high school education at Central High in Newark in 1947, Dovell entered Maryland and played varsity football under the late Jim Tatum. Whitey was an offensive guard. He participated in three bowl games, playing in the Gator Bowl twice and in the Sugar Bowl once.

After receiving his degree in Physical Education in 1951, Dovell stayed on at Maryland as freshman coach the following three years. He moved up to the varsity in 1955 and in 12 seasons coached the offensive line, defensive line and linebackers.

During his 15 years at Maryland, Whitey saw 22 of his players go on to play professional ball.

Dovell and his wife, Claire, have three children — Audrey 12, Patricia 10, and Lisa 8.

Sam Rutigliano
Receiver Coach

Sam Rutigliano, 38, serves as receiver coach for the Denver Broncos. He moved into the AFL three years ago with a background of 12 years coaching experience.

Rutigliano holds a B.A. degree from Tulsa University, where he also won three letters in football. In 1959, he received his M.A. degree from Columbia.

Sam started his coaching career as head coach at Lafayette High School in New York City in 1956. After three years, he moved on to become head coach at Greenwich High School in Connecticut in 1959.

Three years later, in 1962, he returned to New York State to coach at Chappaqua High School.

Rutigliano was named backfield coach at the University of Connecticut in 1964. He joined Saban at Maryland in 1966 as coach of receivers.

Sam is a native of Brooklyn, N.Y. He graduated from Erasmus Hall High School in Brooklyn.

Rutigliano is married to the former Barbara Abe. They have three children — Paul, 14, Alison 5, and Barry 3.
Hunter Enis
Offensive Backfield Coach

A quarterback with the Denver Broncos during part of the 1962 season, Hunter Enis, 33, is the youngest member of Lou Saban’s coaching staff.

A native of Fort Worth, Texas, Enis entered Texas Christian University after graduating from Polytechnic High School at Fort Worth in 1955. He went on to star at quarterback for the Horn Frogs, guiding them to the Southwest Conference Championship in 1958.

After receiving his B.A. degree in math and geology in 1959, Enis signed with the old Chicago Cardinals. Released after five games, Hunter returned to TCU as an assistant coach and to work on his Master’s degree.

He signed on with the Dallas Texans of the American Football League in 1960, and moved on to the San Diego Chargers in 1961. He coached and studied at TCU in the off-season.

In 1962, Hunter was traded to the Broncos and played in seven league games before being dealt to the Oakland Raiders.

He completed work on his Master’s degree during the off-season and decided to retire and accepted a full-time job at TCU.

A veteran of six years of Air Force reserve training, Enis is married. He and his wife, Gloria, have a daughter, Jill, 6, and a boy, James Hunter, 3.

Dick MacPherson
Linebacker Coach

Dick MacPherson, 39, moved from Maryland to the professional ranks with Lou Saban following the 1966 season. His first year he coached the defensive backs, and this season will start his second as coach of the linebackers.

MacPherson has a Master’s Degree from the University of Illinois. He also was a scholar-athlete at Springfield College in Massachusetts, where he received a B.A. in Physical Education.

His coaching experience is impressive, and spans from Illinois, where he was assistant freshman coach in 1958, to a stint at the University of Maryland, where he worked with the defensive backs.

In between, Dick coached at Massachusetts as line coach in 1959 and 1960, then moved on to the University of Cincinnati to coach the line and defensive backs from 1961 through 1965.

A native of Old Town, Maine, MacPherson attended Old Town High School, graduating in 1948. He spent two years at Maine Maritime Academy, then served with the U.S. Air Force from 1950 to 1954.

Upon receiving his honorable discharge, he enrolled at Springfield College and proceeded to win varsity letters in football and wrestling. As a footballer, he played center and linebacker.

Dick and his wife, Sandra, have been married for 12 years and have two girls—Maureen 10, and Janet 7.

Stan Jones
Defensive Line Coach

Stan Jones, 38, one of the leading linemen in the National Football League for 13 years, serves as defensive line coach for Denver Head Coach and General Manager Lou Saban.

Born in Altoona, Pa., Jones lettered for three years at the University of Maryland, gaining All-America honors as a guard in 1953. He was also named Lineman of the Year in the nation.

After receiving his degree in Physical Education in 1954, Jones began a long and illustrious career with the Chicago Bears. He was with Chicago for 12 years, then ended his playing days with the Washington Redskins in 1966.

As an offensive guard with the Bears, Jones was All-NFL in 1955 and 1956, and again in 1959 and 1960. He was a member of the West team in the Pro Bowl seven times.

Jones demonstrated his versatility in 1963 by moving from offense to defense. He played fulltime at defensive tackle for the next four years.

Stan and his wife, Darlis, have been married for 15 years. They have a girl, Sherrie, 14, and a boy, Kevin, 12.

Joe Collier
Defensive Backfield Coach

The newest addition to the Bronco staff is Joe Collier, 38, who was named defensive backfield coach in January of 1969. He came to Denver from the Buffalo Bills where he served as head coach for two-plus seasons.

Joe was born in Rock Island, Ill., and was graduated from Rock Island High. He attended Northwestern University and lettered three years at offensive end. In 1953, he captained the Wildcats and was named to the All-Big Ten team. Post season he played in the Senior Bowl and East-West Shrine Game.

He was drafted by the New York Giants, but elected to by-pass pro ball. Joe served in the Army from 1954-56 prior to joining the coaching staff at Western Illinois as a graduate assistant in 1957.

A year later he became a full-time member of the staff, serving under Head Coach Lou Saban. He moved with Saban to the Boston Patriots in 1960 and on to the Buffalo Bills two years later. Joe was named Buffalo head coach in 1966 when Saban shifted to the college field.

Collier and his wife, Shirley, have three children—Julie, 12, Lisa, 11, and Joel, 6.
Fred Gehrke
Director of Player Personnel

Fred Gehrke, 52, a former football star at the University of Utah and with the Cleveland Rams and Los Angeles Rams, was named to the post of player personnel director of the Broncos in January 1965.

Gehrke, a native of Salt Lake City, Utah, was an all-professional halfback with the world champion Cleveland Rams in 1945. Later, as a member of the Los Angeles Rams, he served as a player-coach in 1948 and 1949 and then concluded his active playing career in 1950.

He started his pro career with the Rams in 1940 and then played with the Los Angeles Bulldogs in the war-time Pacific Coast League from 1941 through 1944. During that time he also worked in the Engineering Design Division of the Northrup Aircraft Co., a technical artist, he was responsible for the helmet design presently worn by the Los Angeles Rams. Previously he was an outstanding scholar-athlete at Utah in 1937, 1938 and 1939.

Gehrke remained close to the game after his retirement and did color commentary with Tom Harmon on radio and television football broadcasts for 13 years. Gehrke has five children—four daughters and a son. Fred and his wife, Jean, live in Arvada.

Allen Hurst
Trainer

The duties of trainer fall on the shoulders of Allen Hurst, a man who has been in the business since he was 15.

Hurst, 29, was born in Houston, Texas, and took up training in his freshman year in high school. After his graduation in 1959, he accepted a four-year scholarship to train at Texas Christian University.

During his stint as student trainer at TCU he was on the staff of the Oilers. While with the Oilers training staff, Houston played in the AFL Championship Games of 1960, 1961, and 1962.

He was graduated from TCU in 1963 with a degree in physical education and a minor in biology. He then joined the Broncos and has been in the post of head trainer since.

Allen and his wife, the former Patty Jean Shuler, were married in 1963 and live in Lakewood.

Carroll Hardy
Director of Scouting

Carroll Hardy, 37, assumed the duties of Director of Scouting in June of 1970. He is responsible for assessing the talent of hundreds of college athletes that become eligible for the pros each year, and deciding which of them can play football professionally.

Hardy has long been considered one of the greatest athletes produced by Colorado since winning a modern record of 10 letters at the University of Colorado (four each in football and baseball and two in track).

After his graduation from the U. of Colorado in 1955 with a degree in education, Carroll signed a baseball contract with the Cleveland Indians and was drafted in the third round by football's San Francisco 49'er's.

The '56 and '57 seasons were spent in the Army, but he returned to Cleveland in 1958 and was used as an outfielder until 1960 when he was traded to the Red Sox. In 1961 Carroll became the only man ever to pinch hit for Ted Williams.

The year 1963 found Hardy with the expansion Houston Colt 45's, where he remained until 1965 when he was traded to Minnesota. During the fall of '65 he became associated with the Broncos as a scout.

In 1969 Carroll became assistant ticket manager for the Broncos and held the position until being named to his new post. Hardy and his wife, the former Janice Mitchell, were married in 1956 and have three children—Jay, 13; Jill, 12 and Lisa, 9. They reside in Boulder.

Larry Elliott
Equipment Manager

Responsible for handling the large amount of equipment needed by a professional football team is Larry Elliott, 33, a native of Seneca, Kansas.

Larry began his career in athletics at the age of 13 when his parents moved the family to Colorado. At St. Mary's High School in Colorado Springs, he won a total of 10 varsity letters in football, basketball and baseball. A number of scholarship offers in both football and baseball followed his graduation in 1955, but Larry opted for the Air Force.

During his four years in the service at such spots as Hawaii, Guam, The Philippines, Japan and Tripoli, athletics were not forgotten. While stationed at Tripoli's Wheeler Air Force Base he won All-European honors as a third baseman.

Following his discharge from the service, Elliott worked as an assistant manager of a finance company, bookkeeper and as assistant athletic equipment manager for the Air Force Academy. He was recommended for the Bronco position in 1965 by Air Force Academy equipment manager Artus Smith; a position he has held since.

Elliott and his wife, Margaret, who reside in Lakewood, were married in 1959 and have five children—Timothy 10, Troy 8, Thomas 6, Terry 3, and Tammie 1.

He is assisted by Ronnie Bill.
A Position-By-Position Analysis

GENERAL

When LOU SABAN arrived on the Denver scene in 1967, he stated he would completely rebuild the Broncos. He anticipated it would take in the vicinity of five years for the Broncos to become a consistent winner. He hopes the timetable may be stepped-up and a winning season may be feasible in 1970, his fourth year at the helm as General Manager and Head Coach.

That the Broncos are becoming competitive is evident. Two Denver losses last season came at the hands of the Kansas City Chiefs, but it could be noted that Denver lost by fewer points than did the Minnesota Vikings in the Super Bowl.

Barring a repeat of an almost unbelievable rash of injuries that struck the Bronco entry the past two seasons, Denver should be in a position to make a bonafide run at the .500 goal that only one out of 10 previous Bronco squads has been able to attain.

THE OFFENSE

Improvement at quarterback and how well BOBBY ANDERSON can perform as a rookie are two keys to Bronco offensive success in 1970. Quarterbacks STEVE TENSI and PETE LISKE are expected to duel during the pre-season for the starting quarterback job. The winner must step in and do a job. SABAN hopes that ANDERSON can team with FLOYD LITTLE, the best back in football in 1969, in the starting backfield. The receiving with AL DENSON, MIKE HAFNER and others, again looks like a long suit and the offensive line continues to improve.

Quarterbacks

The Broncos anticipate greeting four quarterbacks when practice commences in July. They are veterans STEVE TENSI and PETE LISKE, second year man AL PASTRANA and rookie draftee BOB STEWART (No. 16). When TENSI is right, he's great. In one game (against San Diego on the road) he connected on 11 passes in a row. His average gain per completion was a creditable 15.2. LISKE started two games, but perhaps his best performance came against the New York Jets when he came off the bench to relieve the injured TENSI and passed the Broncos to a 21-19 win. In the final game of the season, against Cincinnati, LISKE completed 13 of 17 attempts for 207 yards and three touchdowns. The Broncos won 27-16. PASTRANA spent the entire year learning, and did not have an offensive play from scrimmage at quarterback during the regular season. STEWART brings impressive credentials from Northern Arizona. LISKE or TENSI must come through if the Bronco offense is to improve.

Running Backs

Denver will trump anyone's ace with FLOYD LITTLE. When healthy there is no better back around. Although he missed almost half the season due to injuries (knee, shoulder), FLOYD still managed to gain 729 yards and average five yards per tote. Add to this the drafting of All-America BOBBY ANDERSON (No. 1) from the U. of Colorado and things are looking up. Another plus is the addition of Willis Crenshaw, obtained from St. Louis in a trade for Denver's No. 3 collegiate draft choice in 1971. FRAN LYNCH had his best year ever, gaining 407 yards and averaging 4.2 yards per carry. Second year men FRANK QUAYLE and WANDY WILLIAMS will both have added experience. Rookies LEWIS PORTER (No. 8) and GREG JONES (No. 12) are long shots. LITTLE and ANDERSON could team to give Denver it's most exciting backfield combo in history.

Receivers

Talent seems to abound, as it did a year ago. In 1969, unfortunately, MIKE HAFNER, BILLY VAN HEUSEN and TOM BEER went to the sidelines with knee injuries which subsequently required surgery. AL DENSON, the AFL's No. 3 receiver with 53 grabs for 809 yards was plagued with minor ailments and missed the season's finale with a shoulder injury. A pleasant surprise was the performance late last season of JOHN EMBREE, who scored twice from across midfield, the longest from 79 yards. Wide receiver JERRY HENDREN (No. 4) of the U. of Idaho, the leading major college receiver in the nation in '69, and tight end JOHN MOSIER (No. 6) head the newcomer array. Returnees DAVE PIVEC and TOM BUCKMAN also lend strength to the right end slot. A major trade in this area saw BEER go to the Boston Patriots in exchange for tight end wide receiver JIM WHALEN, if all hands stay hale and hearty, receiving could again be Denver's longest suit.

Offensive Line

One does not have to view a great deal of film of Bronco games to determine that the offensive line is coming of age. The films indicate that the offensive line is opening holes and providing the quarterbacks ample protection. Tackles SAM BRUNELLI and MIKE CURRENT, guards GEORGE GOEDEKE and BOB YOUNG and center LARRY KAMINSKI are likely to start their third year together as a unit. The group improved rapidly last season. Add back-up men GEORGE GAISER and PAUL LATZKE (both coming off knee surgery), MIKE SCHNITKER and JAY BACHMAN, plus the addition of Little All-America JOHN KOHLER (No. 3) and the interior depth problem begins to clear up. Overall, the line situation should improve.

DEFENSE

The defensive line was once again the bulwark of the Bronco defense. In 1969, the opposing passer was thrown 45 times for losses, a team record. Marks were also set for lowest average yards per rush, so improvement was made. The linebacking was good at times, and the play of the defensive secondary was spirited, if not totally consistent. A year's experience could mean much in the problem spots at linebacker and the secondary.

Defensive Line

Things have to be shipshape when you consider the return of All-League RICH JACKSON at end and defensive captain DAVE COSTA at tackle. Add the improved play of end PETE DURANKO and tackles PAUL SMITH, JERRY INMAN and REX MIRICH and another solid season seems in the offing. The Broncos are high on end ALDEN ROCHE (No. 2), an athlete who is rated on a par with RICH JACKSON at the same stage of development. Both attended Southern U. in Louisiana. ROCHE was also an outstanding student, winning a post season NCAA graduate scholarship. MAURICE FULLERTON (No. 10) will also try to make the squad. Once again, the defensive line should rate with the best.

Linebackers

The Broncos have three men with experience, middle man JOHN HUARD and outside linebackers CARL CUNNINGHAM and CHIP MYRTLE. They were the starters for most of 1969. Improvement is definitely needed throughout the linebacking corps, but added experience has helped each season. All begin their fourth campaign. MYRTLE has good speed. CUNNINGHAM had his best year in 1969. FRED FORSBERG, who missed the entire '69 campaign after a pre-season knee injury, will bid strongly for a starting post. The top newcomer is BILL MCKOY (No. 6), who will try to make the transition from collegiate end. KEN CRITER backed up HUARD last year. DAVE WASHINGTON (No. 9) and JEFF SLIPP (No. 14) are the other rookie candidates. SID WILLIAMS, acquired in a trade with Pittsburgh, could be a factor. Improved linebacking could help the defensive secondary.

Defensive Backs

Denver had to have one of the least experienced secondaries ever to play professional football in 1969. Manning the positions most of the year were three rookies and a one-year veteran who was playing a new position. With a year of experience, the defensive backs should get better. The headliner of the group is BILL THOMPSON, the talented cornerback who allowed just two TD passes and led the AFL in punt and kickoff returning. THOMPSON was the only player in the AFL's 10-year history to lead the league in both departments. Other starters were GRADY CAVNESS at corner, GEORGE BURRELL, a free agent, at free safety and CHARLES GREER, a sophomore, at strong safety. Back-up men were PETE JACQUES and GUS HOLLOMON. PAUL MARTHA, safety, was obtained from Pittsburgh and should lend experience. It is hoped help is also on the way from the college ranks in the persons of RANDY MONTGOMERY (No. 7), CLEVE BRYANT (No. 11) and JIM McCOY (No. 13). THOMPSON and GREER had substantial seasons in '69, but CAVNESS and BURRELL will have to continue to improve to ward off challengers.

Punting

The punting should be handled capably by a healthy BILLY VAN HEUSEN. As a rookie in '68, BILL ranked second in the league with a 43.8 average. Last season he was sidelined by a pulled hamstring and later by a knee injury which required surgery. VAN HEUSEN was replaced by GUS HOLLOMON who averaged right at 40 yards per kick. MAHER BARAKAT (No. 15) will challenge.

Placekicking

BOBBY HOWFIELD was inconsistent in 1969. However, there is little doubt he possesses one of the strongest legs in football. Only 21 of his 64 kickoffs were returned, a figure that led the AFL. A major addition is CHARLIE GOCOLAK, signed as a free agent after being waived by the Washington Redskins. He was Washington's No. 1 collegiate pick in 1966 and scored 105 points for the Redskins that season, a team record. GOCOLAK, MAHER BARAKAT (No. 15) of South Dakota Tech and FRANK KALFOSS (No. 17) of Montana State will provide stern competition for HOWFIELD, who made 13 of 29 field goal tries last year. The kicking job will be up for grabs—winner take all.

Punt and Kickoff Returns

With AFL leader BILLY THOMPSON and FLOYD LITTLE, Denver may have the top two returners in football. THOMPSON paced the AFL in punt returning (with an 11.5 average) and in kickoff returning (with a 28.5 average) in 1969. LITTLE, hampered by injuries last fall, was first in punt returning and third in kickoff returning as a rookie in 1967, and second in kickoff returning and fourth in punt returning in 1968. WANDY WILLIAMS could help. LEWIS PORTER (No. 8) and GREG JONES (No. 12) head the rookie contingent.

THE 1969 SEASON IN REVIEW

The Denver Broncos were an improved team in 1969, although it didn't show to a major degree in the win column. However, the Broncos did get closer to being truly competitive despite injuries to key men.

As an example, in two losses to the powerful Kansas City Chiefs, the Broncos margin of defeat was less than that of the Minnesota Vikings in the Super Bowl. Most important is that Lou Saban, General Manager and Head Coach, feels that he now has the nucleus around which to build a winner. He was also highly pleased with results of a 1970 collegiate draft which saw Denver nab as its No. 1 choice, All-America running back Bobby Anderson from Colorado.

On an individual basis the names Floyd Little and Bill Thompson come to the fore as one reviews 1969. Despite missing almost six games due to an assortment of injuries (knee, shoulder), Little amassed 729 yards rushing. It was the second best one-season total in Bronco annals (Cookie Gilchrist's 954 yards in 1965 heads the list).

"Little had a great year," said Saban, "especially when you note that he played little more than half the season. One of our goals for '70 is to provide him with more help."

Floyd's three-year total of 1,694 yards from scrimmage makes the bandy-legged former Syracuse All-America the all-time Bronco ground gainer... and by a wide margin. The former No. 1 man, Don Stone, gained 1,273 yards in four seasons.

Floyd also ran for 166 yards on October 19 against the Bengals in Cincinnati. That total was (1) the best day ever for a Bronco running back, and (2) the best rushing total compiled by any back in either league last season.

Thompson led the American Football League in both punt and kickoff returns, marking the first time in the 10-year history of the league that one individual led both departments. He returned 25 punts for 288 yards and an 11.5 average. He raced back 18 kickoffs for 513 yards and a 28.5 average. Playing cornerback, Thompson allowed but two touchdown passes to be thrown in his area... quite a feat for the rookie from Maryland State.

A stellar spot for Denver in '69 was the defense, headed by All-League Rich Jackson and defensive captain Dave Costa of the ever improving front four. In all, 15 Bronco defensive marks went into the record book last season.

Included in the records set were most times opponents' passers thrown for losses (45), lowest average yard per pass completed (13.1), fewest touchdowns allowed (40), fewest touchdown passes allowed (19) and fewest yards allowed rushing (1,709).

A red letter day came on November 2 at Denver Mile High Stadium when the Broncos downed the San Diego Chargers, 13-0. It marked the first time in history that the Broncos had held the opposition without a point.

Another highlight was a 21-19 early season victory over the New York Jets, at that time the defending Super Bowl Champions.

"We've got a long way to go," said Saban, in summing up the 1969 season, "but we think we have also come a long way in three seasons. We had a better record than four of the 10 teams in our league, and we're no longer the tail-end Charlie."
